
CHRISTIAN WEBB, Aalto university

Applications of Gaussian multiplicative chaos

I will discuss how a class of random generalized functions and random measures known as Gaussian multiplicative chaos appears naturally in models of random matrix theory, probabilistic number theory, and critical lattice models, and how such results can be applied.